BYLAWS OF THE STUDENT CONGRESS UNDER THE
AMERICAN INDIAN HIGHER EDUCATION CONSORTIUM

PREAMBLE

We, the Students, invoking the divine guidance of our Creator, the Great Spirit, as acknowledged by our North American Indian and Alaska Native people, do hereby establish a student organizational structure under the sanction of the American Indian Higher Education Consortium (AIHEC), in order to secure for ourselves recognition of our own civil and student rights; to voice the needs of students served by this chapter; to ensure the pursuit of self-determination by students and the quality of education for students; and to enhance and support the Consortium's effort within the realm of American Indian higher education.

We recognize that it is the inherent right of human beings to achieve a sense of self-realization within the context of their cultural philosophies and understandings. Historically, many institutions among North American Indians and Alaska Natives helped to define this for their own tribal members. Self-realization for North American Indians and Alaska Native people is dependent upon the ability to express tribal individualism and manifested in our spiritual lives, our families and communities, and in our institutions.

For this reason, it had been the intent of the Consortium's constituent tribes to found institutions of higher education that are defined and controlled by tribal people. We believe these institutions to be the only ones that comprehensively address the human and physical resource development needs of our respective tribes while promoting and enhancing their tribal cultures, and representing our constituent tribes within the broader academic communities. Thus, we believe that the establishment of member-institutions of the Consortium is an exercise of tribal sovereignty, and as such, the establishment of a student organization under the Consortium is an extension of that exercise.

If the effective date is not specified, the resignation becomes effective immediately upon its receipt by the ASC President or Secretary. Unless otherwise specified therein, formal notice of acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

6.4.2. Removal for Absences. A single unexcused absence, as determined by a vote of the majority of ASC Trustees attending the meeting during which the absence occurred, from a Regular meeting (as defined in section 5.01) or two consecutive absences from additional meetings, by an Executive Member shall result in immediate removal as an officer of the ASC

6.4.3. Vacancies. A vacancy in any Officer position shall be filled by line of succession, with subsequent approval by a majority of the ASC Board of Trustees. In the case of multiple vacancies, any vacant position, after line of succession has been implemented, can be filled by appointment from the ASC officers granting that the appointee meets the minimum qualifications of an AIHEC student congress representative and the approval and financial support of their tribal college's president.

6.4.4. Disciplinary Process. In an effort to address less than desirable performance by an ASC Officer, the ASC adheres to the concept of progressive discipline. In addition to referring the offending officer or officers to their AIHEC member institution, the following types of action will be also taken, not necessarily in order, dependent on the severity of the violation(s).

(a) Verbal Warning. The offending officer is counseled by the ASC officers and/or the co-advisors about their performance or conduct following a minor offense in an effort to eliminate any possible misunderstanding, to improve performance, or to explain what constitutes proper conduct. A written statement will be placed in the offending officer's file.

(b) Written Warning. The offending officer receives a written notice of discipline following continuing poor performance or repeated minor offenses. Or the offending officer gets a written reprimand where it has been determined that an offense in the first instance is serious enough to issue a formal written notice. The purpose of a written reprimand is to make certain that the officer is fully aware of the level of the misconduct that he/she has committed, or of those areas of performance that must be improved. The written warning should also inform the offending officer what is expected. A copy will be placed in the member's file.

(c) Final Written Warning. – (per violation) The offending officer receives a final written notice if sufficient progress has not occurred after prior counseling or written reprimands or following repeated minor offenses or it has been determined that an offense is serious enough to issue a final written notice. A copy will be placed in the officer's file.

(d) Corrective Probation. (not the exceed 90 days. An offending officer may receive a probationary period, up to 90 days, should he/she have performance or related issues that need correction. The congress will outline the expectations and provide direction to help make the member successful. This type of disciplinary action will typically accompany an additional action listed above. Documentation will be placed in the officer's file.

(e) Termination. – A terminated officer shall be notified that he/she shall not be eligible to reapply for any congress position with ASC, for at least 6 months from the date of termination. Termination of the offending officer is the greatest penalty the ASC can impose. Such actions should normally take place under the following circumstances:

(I) The ASC has made an attempt to have an offending officer correct performance or conduct and the officer has not responded favorably.

(II) An officer's misconduct results in such a serious consequence that the ASC determines it has no other alternative.

The ASC, in considering implementing a disciplinary process against an officer, shall take the following steps:

(A) Gather all the facts. Immediately after a specific incident occurs, or immediately after learning of an incident, the ASC shall obtain complete and detailed information about the incident by interviewing the officer (s) involved and, privately and separately, each person who saw or heard what occurred (if applicable.) Every effort should be made to reconcile conflicting statements and keep information confidential. ASC should notify advisor(s) and co advisor(s) to assist in or conduct the investigation. This ensures that the congress involved will objectively evaluate the facts and circumstances surrounding the offense before deciding on an appropriate penalty.

(B) Prepare a written report. The ASC shall next write a complete, accurate, and unbiased report describing the information obtained. Include in the report any other information that is part of the officer's record (past performance appraisals, prior warnings, poor attendance records, etc.) that may provide additional substantiation of disciplinary that no disciplinary action be taken before the written report is completed. In such situations, where it is not possible to prepare the report beforehand, it must be prepared within one week after such action is taken.

(C) Weigh the evidence. Review and weigh all the evidence obtained and applicable to the ASC policy to determine whether the offense is one that warrants implementing the formal disciplinary process. If discipline is called for, consider the following factors before deciding on a penalty:

- a. How serious is the problem?
- b. What is the member's past record? (past performance appraisals, prior warnings, poor attendance records, etc.)
- c. Has the member been disciplined in the past for the same infraction? If so, how recently was the member disciplined?
- d. What is the attitude of the member?

(D) Review details with Advisors. After deciding on the appropriate disciplinary penalty, the officers involved should review the details of the incident with any advisor(s) and co- advisor(s) to ensure that policies and procedures concurs with the type of discipline recommended. If the recommended disciplinary penalty is termination, all members of ASC must approve the penalty.

(E) Administer disciplinary penalty. Disciplinary penalty shall be implemented through the following actions:

- (I) All disciplinary penalties, including verbal warning, shall be administered with all ASC officers present with appropriate documentation to include right of appeal.
- (II) A letter of reprimand shall be prepared by the ASC regardless of the level at which the warning is being given.
- (III) Warning notice of letters of reprimand shall be signed by the offending officer (unless a verbal warning is being issued), signed by all ASC officers, and advisor(s) and co-advisor(s). After issuance of the notice, it should be forwarded to the advisor(s) for review and placement in the officer's AIHEC file.
- (IV) offending officer refuses to sign, the proper notation should be recorded on the letter.

(F) Take timely action. If a specific incident is involved, a disciplinary process, to be effective, must be administered as soon as practicable after the incident. To this extent, the ASC officers should ensure that all the facts are gathered, the written report is completed, all the evidence is weighed, and discipline is decided upon and administered timely. The entire process should be complete within two weeks unless there are unforeseen circumstances that prevent it.
